Trafalgar

Shirburn

Ms. P. 82

Dear Admiral Byde.

Merton has long ^{been} ~~was~~ gone out of the family & been pulled down & the site built over. But the great Admiral who never succeeded to the Earlston but saw a Viscount who lived at Trafalgar was born at Bunbarrow Thorne and spent all his holidays there.

Both the father & mother died before Trafalgar. The Father Lee retired to Bath some years before his death.

I don't know of any private memorial tomb of Talbot & I fear admiral
The National Monument & St Pauls. and the various Monuments erected in Dublin Yorkmouth &c were I suppose. Deemed sufficient.
At the same time I think

It is a proper thing that our first Hero, who boasted giving a Norfolk man and got most of his celebrated Agamemnon crew for Burnham Thorse sit right on hand should have some special tablet or memorial at Burnham Thorse Church.
 I should think the through repair restoration of it

Church with passport reading Desk ~~As~~ some of the Fottings being made of the pieces of the Victory and a Poran tablet regarding the fact of his Father's Residence these of his birth there of the Nov. the schools I don't be sent from there would be a fitting Memorial.

I only regret that in my present straitened position that I could not myself before a large subscription to the Fund but any such a proposal would have my hearty concurrence although for obvious reasons I could not take a prominent part in starting it.
